UNPARALLELED OPPORTUNITIES AFFORDED

NOT alone is the huge cavern encountered at Volcano of wonderful geological interest, but it is tremendously enticing to mining men. If, as is claimed, the cave is so deep that rocks dropped therein cannot be heard striking the bottom, it will be a simple matter to place a hoisting plant thereon and penetrate the earth to as great depth as machinery will permit, and there are no limitations to modern engineering. The geological formation may then be studied at ease and with much greater thoroughness than in artificial workings. It is within the limits of possibility that great truths, now classed as theories, will be demonstrated, while fallacies as to the genesis of the earth's construction may be laughed out of existence.

The cavern will probably prove to contain mineral wealth, for it exists in a region that is vein gashed. The fact that it cuts the formation as traced on the surface at right angles, will mean the opening up of these veins at depth if they continue to go down, while others may be discovered which do not reach the surface. The possibilities and potentialities of this remarkable cavern, situated on the line of cleavage of two ancient geological formations, are such that the mind of man can but weakly grasp at them.

AN UNDESIRABLE SPECIES

IN A primitive community a man who steals a horse is deemed guilty of a capital crime and he sometimes expiates it without recourse to judge or jury. In other primitive communities murder is classed as a sort of kindergarten offense. The foregoing is not exactly the case, but we are taught by "historians" of border life to believe these to be the facts.

Seriously speaking, however, there is a very prevalent crime being committed in Nevada, as well as in other mining states, that should be more adequately punished. It is that of mine salting or enriching samples. A case of this sort has just come to the attention of the Bonanza. A prospector has been living well and spending money freely on the strength of some West End specimens which he exhibited as products of his "mine." Hard working men of Tonopah have been contributing to his support in idleness, which is varied by occasional bursts of industry when the time comes to make another "touch."

The foregoing description does not fit the honest prospectors who are giving returns for their grubstakes in honest and intelligent effort. Such men should be encouraged more than they are, but the salters make it difficult for them to interest anybody in their propositions.

A FEARFUL FORECAST

SHOULD the terrible battle of Arras decide the fate of France and versely it is not likely that a worse fate than that of Belgium would befall the republic. But could there be a worse fate? Assuredly there is, and it is one that awaits Great Britain should the Tenth Army be victorious. It would be literally hell let loose.

The hatred of Germany for England is unspeakable. Futile attempts have been made to voice it in song and oratory. It is a hatred that can only be expressed in action. For Belgium the Germans have no hatred, and little for France or Russia, comparable with that for Albion and in a measure it is returned. The isles are the goal of Germany's ambition and unhappy is the fate awaiting that fair kingdom if, in this life and death struggle, Germany frees herself from the chains that the allies have wrought, and springs forth in her gigantic strength to take her enemy by the throat.

LOVE VS. TERROR

JUST about the time when the president of China was bitterly lamenting the military weakness of the republic, forced by her unpreparedness for war to yield much to a wiser and stronger little neighbor, Mr. Bryan was talking to the Honorary Commercial Commission of China very sweet, pretty, futile, foolish stuff like this: "I believe the United States can secure her safety better by making friends who love her than by making nations fear her. Half the money we spend in battleships could better be spent in educating the young men of other nations in our schools."

Democratic governments "by discarding implements of terror, dare build citadels in the hearts of men," and so on. This to representatives of a nation that knows how much "love" is shown to a country not adequately implemented with terror.

THERE IS STRENGTH IN NUMBERS

A FLY wandering about through a "movie" house happened to alight on a portion of the picture machine that caused his image magnified about a thousand times, to appear on the screen. This was an act not down on the bill, but it took the place of the advertised thriller. If a house fly, a thousand times the natural size, were to emerge from his domicile of filth and drag his horrible hairy legs across your butter and then take a bath in your cream jug, you would feel inclined to call the police and then consult a physician post haste. Let it be remembered that one thousand ordinary flies are just as repulsive and have equal potentialities for evil as one fly multiplied in size one thousand times.

AMERICAN MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETING

(By Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The second meeting of the house of delegates of the American Medical Association was held today at the exposition memorial auditorium, Dr. Victor V. Vaughan, the president of the association in the chair.

The report of the committee on nomenclature and classification of diseases was presented by Dr. Cressy L. Wilbur, Albany, N. Y., registrar of the bureau of vital statistics of the department of health of the state of New York. The preparation of the fourth decennial revision of the English classification of diseases has been interrupted by the European war, so that the expected co-operation of the committee of the Royal College of Physicians of London has not been forthcoming. The second revision of the international list of causes of death to be issued in 1919 will soon be undertaken.

The report of the committee on scientific research was presented by Dr. Ludwig Hektoen of Chicago, who reported that a grant of $200 had been made to Dr. Gerald B. Webb of Colorado Springs for work on immunity in tuberculosis; $250 to Dr. A. L. Prince of Yale university, New Haven, for work on the methods of determining the efficiency of the heart; $200 to Dr. E. R. LeCompt of Chicago, for work on meningitis; $400 to Dr. William E. MacNider, Chapel Hill, N. C., for work on the dangers of anesthetics in cases of kidney disease, and $350 to Dr. C. B. Bass of New Orleans for work on bacteriology.

Dr. George M. Kober of Washington presented the report of the committee on Red Cross medical work, the object of which is to stimulate in every county medical society the creation of a committee on Red Cross work and to provide a body of physicians qualified to direct medical work carried on by the Red Cross in times of war and emergencies. The report showed that during the last year 296 county medical associations have organized committees on Red Cross work so that on May 1, 1915, there were 510 committees, composed of 3,250 representative men in 48 states available for assisting the American Red Cross in its work.

NEW MILL AT OLD CAMP OF BELMONT

WILL BE IN OPERATION BY AUGUST 1

FIRST UNIT OF PLANT WILL HAVE A CAPACITY OF 200 TONS DAILY

The new mill being installed by the Monitor-Belmont company, the property of which is located at Belmont, in Nye county, Nevada, about 50 miles north of Tonopah, will be in operation by August 1, according to Superintendent Norman E. Smith, who is in Salt Lake purchasing the equipment. The first unit is to have a capacity of 200 tons per day. It will be built alongside the present dump on the property, which contains about 50,000 tons of ore running between 16 and 18 ounces silver to the ton, says the Salt Lake Tribune.

Mr. Smith has recently visited the principal mining camps of Washington, Montana, Idaho and Utah and he said yesterday that he found the mining industry in a very prosperous condition, with operators in a very optimistic frame of mind. He is of the opinion that the industry is entering its period of greatest prosperity.

The Monitor-Belmont company has purchased six properties and now owns twenty-one patented claims. These consist of those formerly owned by the Monitor-Belmont, owned by J. B. Hargis, the Belmont Mining company, the High Bridge Mining company, the Eldorado Mining company, the Moore & Martin, and the Silver Bend Mining company.

The property is opened by three main double compartment shafts, one down 1100 feet, one down 750 feet and one down 600 feet. There are also two tunnels that have each been driven about 1000 feet.

The formation is principally slate in contact with the granite. Quartz fissures parallel the contact, varying in width from three to twenty feet. The ore, which is silver-bearing, occurs in the quartz veins, and Mr. Smith has been able to identify about thirty different silver minerals. One very common silver mineral, but found in quantity on the property, is called Stettelite. The ore contains about 1 per cent sulphide.

When the company took over the property the management found the mill plants in a state of wreck. One plant had been hauled into the district from Sacramento by ox teams in 1865.

The new mill will consist of ten 1600-pound stamps and one 6x10 tube mill. The concentrating will be done by flotation. In discussing the difficulties of hauling the tube mill to the camp Mr. Smith said that it required eighteen horses eight days to make the trip from Tonopah, a distance of about 50 miles.

VON POLENZ IN TROUBLE

Baron George F. Von Polenz, who will be remembered as a mine promoter in the boom days of southern Nevada, has been placed under arrest by the Canadian government as an alien enemy and interned at Fort Henry, Kingston, Ontario, according to the Engineering and Mining Journal. He has been operating at Cobalt and Porcupine for the last three years.

Economy, simplicity and efficiency makes the Ford a universal utility. A utility because it serves everybody—doctor, farmer, salesman and banker. In every business, or as a pleasure car, the Ford proves reliable and economical. Low first cost—$60 less than last year, and the plan of sharing profits with the buyers—and low upkeep expense, are reasons why it pays to own a Ford. They serve and save. Buyers will share in profits if we sell at retail 300,000 new Ford cars between August 1914 and August 1915.
